A Tragic End. . .

Whaler Wanderer a Wreck at Cuttyhunk
from the Fairhaven Star, Friday August 29, 1924

Practically every person among the hundreds who gathered around the pier and along the shores last Monday to bid farewell to the old bark Wanderer, the last of New Bedford's square-rigged whalers, realized that it was the last time the old ship would ever sail on a whaling trip.

But none realized at that time the tragic ending which the craft would experience within the next twenty-four hours.

In the terrific storm which swept this section of the country last Tuesday, the Wanderer, anchored off Mishaum Point, dragged anchor so fast that the crew was powerless to save the vessel and she pounded up against the rocks off Cuttyhunk, a hopeless wreck.

The crew escaped in small boats, one boat landing at Cuttyhunk, while the other was picked up by the Sow and Pigs light ship. The Wanderer was anchored while Captain Edwards was in New Bedford to secure more men for the crew.

The vessel was in the charge of Mate Gomes at the time. There was nothing that could be done to save the ship.

...A New Beginning

Like our namesake, The Wanderer plans to encompass the rich traditions of the past while heading into the future.

Just as the last whaling bark built in Mattapoisett under the auspices of Jonathan H. Holmes shipyard in 1878 remained an example of quality collaboration — boasting the work of a now-lost craft — we strive for that same excellence.

A salute to The Wanderer — hallmark of past, present and future.

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting

By Kenneth J. Souza

Selectmen chairman John N. DeCosta called the meeting to order at 7:01 pm on Tuesday, July 21, 1992.

The board approved permits for ComGas to begin work at 114 North Street and 12 Atkinson Way for the purpose of installing a gas main and new gas service in the respective areas.

The permit allows construction to begin on July 27 at the Atkinson Way site and July 29 on North Street.

Chairman DeCosta announced scheduled meetings for the week including a 3:00 pm meeting with the Board of Assessors to discuss a vacancy on the board in the wake of Robert J. Fay's resignation.

A 3:30 pm meeting will immediately follow to discuss town inspection services.

Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney stressed that only one person has applied for the position to date and urged interested residents with appropriate experience to apply at Town Hall before the Friday afternoon meeting.

Mr. Mahoney also read a letter commending members of the police department for their fine work in assisting a local man during a heart attack.

Mr. Anthony J. Costa, better known as "Sonny" Costa, praised Mattapoisett police and offered his "heartfelt thanks for getting him safely to the hospital" during his recent crisis. Mr. Costa said that too often the good work of police goes unnoticed and he wanted to applaud their consideration and efficiency.

beach have been reduced due to a decrease in early morning attendance.

Regular daily hours effective July 20 are 9:30 am to 4:30 pm. This reduction should maintain the beach through Labor Day with remaining funds.

The entire board praised the work of the Executive Office of Communities and Development (EOCD) and local tri-town representative Lee Craver for his efforts in acquiring $90,000 for the Soft Second Loan Program.

According to chairman DeCosta, Mr. Craver said that state officials were impressed with the fact that all three towns and their respective boards were able to accomplish so much as a combined region in vying for funds.

The $90,000 award — to be dispensed in $10,000 installments — will be used to help moderate income home buyers surpass the difficulties in qualifying for a first-time mortgage.

Both selectman Paul E. Lambalot and Mr. Mahoney agreed that including information about the program in town employees' paychecks might be beneficial in garnering support for this promising venture.

Contractor Russell Souza informed the board that he is in the process of obtaining price quotes to move the Peabody home from its original location and prepare for rebuilding. Mr. Peabody will contact the office prior to the July 30 deadline.

Chairman DeCosta informed his fellow selectmen that plans are in the working for their participation in the upcoming September 13 Peach Festival Parade.

Mr. Lambalot wanted to be sure that the board will wear "straw hats" similar to those used last year.

All three selectmen were very pleased with last week's Harbor Days Festival, citing it as "one of the best turnouts ever" for a town event.

The board closed the meeting by discussing the possibility of a Special Town Meeting in October or November to discuss outstanding issues including a $60,000 appropriation to make general repairs to the Old Rochester Regional High School.

The appropriation, which was approved in Marion and Mattapoisett earlier this year, failed to pass in Rochester and chairman DeCosta said he has been discussing the matter with the chairman of the Rochester Board of Selectmen, Harry A. Brown, Jr.

The spectacular performance of The Magic of Lyn combines astounding illusions, live animals, upbeat music, choreography and brilliant color. With sizzling high energy, Lyn electrifies the stage with her unique style of magic. As one of the few female illusionists in the world, she has performed extensively throughout the east coast. In her show, Lyn may produce her assistant from a crystal clear box, escape unharmed from being pierced by 1,800 watts of electricity and perform Harry Houdini's Metamorphosis.

"Once Upon a Time" continues for the next two consecutive Wednesdays with the following shows: "BEAUTY AND THE BEAST" on August 5, 1992, and "MOZART, MONSTERS AND MATISSE" presented by puppeteer, MARSHALL IZEN on August 12, 1992.

Single Tickets are $5.00 each, general admission. Group rates are available. Individual tickets and subscriptions are available at the Zeiterion Box Office. To charge tickets over the phone, call TICKETMASTER in Massachusetts at 1-931-2000 or in Rhode Island at 1-331-2211. Individual tickets are also available at any TICKETMASTER "cash only" outlet.

"BEAUTY AND THE BEAST"

The Gingerbread Players and Jack of New York present the classic fairy tale. " Beauty and the Beast" at New Bedford's Zeiterion Theater on Wednesday, August 5, 1992, at 10:30am as part of " Once Upon a Time" the theatre's 1992 summer youth festival.

The Gingerbread Players and Jack's production of Beauty and the best has lush musical score by Broadway composer Michael Valenti and rich, elegant costumes in the fashion of 19th century France. The play centers on the growing friendship between the Beauty and the Beast enhanced by the comic antics of Beauty's wayward sisters and their respective suitors. The musical is filled with thrills, as when Beauty's father encounters the Beast for the first time; human warmth, as when Beauty teaches a recalcitrant Beast how to laugh and the special magic provided by the singing roses that grow in the Beast's garden.

The Zeiterion's "Once Upon a Time" concludes on Wednesday, August 12, 1992 with "MOZART, MONSTERS AND MATISSE" present by puppeteer, MARSHALL IZEN.

Single tickets are $5.00 each, general admission. Group rates are available. Individual tickets and subscriptions are

The New Bedford Whaling Museum

Some experts call the "River Queen" American's first presidential yacht. Built in 1864, this 181-foot wooden paddlewheel steamer was initially used in early 1865 by President Lincoln to host a secret meeting with a three-man confederate peace commission. Then in March, she was again chartered from her owner, George H. Power, to take the President on an inspection trip of Union forces surrounding Petersburg, Virginia. General Grant and Sherman and Admiral Porter laid out the strategy for the ultimate victory and the reconstruction as the "River Queen" lay at anchor off General Grant's headquarters in the James River.

After the war, Mr. Power used her in commercial centuries, and in 1871 the "River Queen" was sold to the New Bedford, Vineyard and Nantucket Steamboat Company where for the next thirteen years she carried passengers and freight between the mainland and the islands.

From 1884, the "River Queen" was a charter boat, hired in 1891 by the New Bedford, Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket Line for a brief tour, and was a passenger ship on the Potomac until she burned in 1911.

The only known memento from Lincoln's stateroom is a gilded wooden mirror which is one of the many artifacts, photographs, and paintings displayed at the New Bedford Whaling Museum's summer exhibition, "The Boat to New Bedford: Steamers of the Bay and Island." This exhibit depicts an era when steamboats were the main link between New Bedford, Nantucket, Martha's Vineyard, and the rest of the world.

"The Boat to New Bedford" will be on view until October 4, 1992, at the New Bedford Whaling Museum, 18 Johnny Cake Hill, New Bedford, Massachusetts 02740.

The Museum is open Mondays - Saturdays, 9:00am - 5:00pm; on Sundays in July and August from 11:00am - 5:00pm.

Marion Art Center

The Marion Art Center's production of "The Fantasticks" originally scheduled for August 6, 1992 - August 9, 1992, has been canceled.

The Marion Art Center announces a new mini-series of watercolor classes beginning August 3, 1992, taught by John Murphy. The four classes will meet on Monday, August 3, 1992, and August 10, 1992, from 10:00am to 12:00 noon, and on Wednesday, August 5, 1992, and August 12, 1992, from 3:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon. The fee is $40.00 for members and $45.00 for non-members. Registration: Please call 748-1266.

John Murphy is a well-known painter and art educator. His career began as a teacher at the Swain School of Design. Later he was Supervisor of Art in the state of Vermont and then the Lexington Public School in Lexington, Massachusetts. Mr. Murphy graduated from New England School of Art and received his B.A. Degree at Washington University, and his M.A. at Salem State. His paintings are in many private collections, and he continues to paint, travel, lecture and teach.

On Friday, August 7, 1992, the Marion Art Center will host an evening of music by string quartets from all over the country. These groups have been in residence at Tabor Academy for the past several weeks, and have agreed to perform for the public at the Art Center. For more information call 748-1266.

"Miss Civilization," a melodrama by Richard Harding Davis, will be performed at the Marion Art Center on Friday July 24, 1992, at 8:00pm and again on Sunday July 26, 1992, at 4:00pm. This play, originally produced in Marion in 1905, is a real classic with a 'modern twist': The heroine is not the typical fragile victim. She outwits three menacing robbers and protects her ailing mother at the same time. Wendy Bidstrup will provide some background anecdotes about the play and about Cecil Clark Davis, R.H., Davis' first wife. Reservations are strongly recommended due to limited seating. Call 748-1266. Tickets are free to MAC members and $5.00 for general admission.

For further information please contact:

Wendy Bidstrup, 80 Pleasant Street, P.O. Box 602, Marion, Massachusetts 02738, at (508) 748-1266.

Mattapoisett Public Library

The 10th Annual Arts and Crafts show will be held on August 15, 1992 (rain day August 16, 1992), at the Mattapoisett Public Library, 7 Barstow Street, Mattapoisett. Refreshments and demonstrations throughout the day. This event is sponsored by the Friends of Mattapoisett Library.

Mattapoisett Museum and Carriage House

The current exhibit of the work of Mattapoisett's Craftsmen continues thought the end of July. This exhibit features the work of painters , woodcarvers, needle crafters, rug makers, jewelry makers, quilters and more.

The museum, for those not familiar with it, is one of the finest small museums in New England and contains a wide selection of items from Mattapoisett's past- the whaling and shipbuilding days, the farm and village life, as well as the town life in general. Situated in the Old Christian Church, built in 1821, the museum covers two floors of the old church, plus the two floors of the Carriage house. The museum is open Tuesday - Saturday 1:00pm - 4:30pm. Admission for non-members is $2.00 for adults and $ .50 for children.

The Historical Society is currently selling chances on the works of three local artists- a black and white, paper cut poster by Peter Martin, a silk screen print of the Gazebo by Debbie Chase, and a series of three pen and ink sketches of Mattapoisett scenes by Arthur Moniz. Raffle books and tickets are available at the museum, 5 Church Street and from members of the Board of Directors. Raffle books are $5.00 and single chances are $1.00. Drawing will take place at the annual meeting of the Historical Society on September 13. We urge you all to support this effort of the Society. You would be proud and fortunate to have any one of these works of art in your home!

The upcoming exhibit at the Museum for the month of August will feature the work of Mattapoisett's craftsmen. This exhibit will also include a wide variety of arts and crafts- from stained glass to painting to woodcarving to scrimshaw, etc. This exhibit will open on Tuesday, August 4, 1992.

The Museum and Carriage house offers a wonderful place to visit on a summer afternoon and a great place to bring your out-of-town visitors to show off another of Mattapoisett's special features. The Museum, by the way, is air-conditioned!
